TrichoSol

TrichoSol is a fungal consortium of T. harzianum and T. asperellum. These beneficial Trichoderma species complement the rhizobial inoculant.

It colonises the rhizosphere and root surface, outcompeting harmful pathogens while stimulating root branching and nutrient uptake.

Through enzyme and hormone production, Trichoderma enhances plant resilience to stress and improves nitrogen and phosphorus efficiency.

When used with RhizoPulse, it promotes stronger early root growth, healthier nodulation, and improved overall plant vigour — creating a synergistic biological foundation for yield and soil health.
